Legislative Counsel's Digest:

In 2015, the Nevada Legislature passed Assembly Bill No. 475, which reduced the period of initial licensure for a license as a real estate broker, real estate broker-salesperson or real estate salesperson from 24 to 12 consecutive months and each subsequent period of licensure for these and other licenses issued by the Real Estate Division of the Department of Business and Industry from 48 to 24 consecutive months. Assembly Bill No. 475 provided that existing licenses issued by the Division before July 1, 2015, do not need to be renewed until the expiration dates listed on those licenses. (Chapter 475, Statutes of Nevada 2015, at page 2780)

Section 1 of this regulation establishes educational requirements for certain licensees whose licenses have been placed on inactive status and who apply for reinstatement.

Existing regulations provide that the Division may investigate the financial responsibility of an applicant for a license as a real estate broker and provide that an applicant shall be deemed financially responsible if the applicant can show liquid assets sufficient to maintain an office for at least 180 days. (NAC 645.150) Section 3 of this regulation: (1) authorizes the Division to eliminate the presumption of financial responsibility; (2) requires that a credit report be submitted to the Division which must be dated within 30 days before the date of the application; and (3) requires that an applicant submit such other information as the Division deems necessary.

Existing regulations provide that the Division will only accept the results of an examination taken during the 12 months before the date of an application for a license. (NAC 645.225) Section 4 of this regulation instead provides that the Division will only accept the results of an examination for 12 months after the results of the examination were issued.

Existing regulations set forth certain requirements for a course of postlicensing education for first-time licensees. (NAC 645.4442) Section 7 of this regulation revises those requirements to require the completion of prescribed continuing education by certain first-time licensees and scales the required number of hours of continuing education to the new 1-year period of initial licensure established by Assembly Bill No. 475.

Existing regulations require a person to submit certain proof to the Division to renew an active license or reinstate an inactive license. (NAC 645.445) Section 8 of this regulation revises the items of proof that must be submitted to renew or reinstate a license.

Existing regulations set forth certain requirements for continuing education for a real estate salesperson, real estate broker or real estate broker-salesperson who wishes to renew his or her license. (NAC 645.448) Section 9 of this regulation revises those requirements as they relate to live instruction and distance education and scales the required number of hours of continuing education to the new 2-year periods of licensure established by Assembly Bill No. 475.

Existing regulations establish certain requirements for continuing education for the renewal of a permit to engage in property management. (NAC 645.802) Section 12 of this regulation revises those requirements as they relate to the subject matter of the continuing education and scales the required number of hours of instruction to the new 2-year periods of licensure established by Assembly Bill No. 475.

Existing regulations establish certain requirements for continuing education for the renewal of a permit to engage in business as a business broker. (NAC 645.915) Section 13 of this regulation revises those requirements as they relate to the subject matter of the continuing education and scales the required number of hours of instruction to the new 2-year periods of licensure established by Assembly Bill No. 475.

Existing regulations require the Division to consider the financial condition of a person who wishes to apply for a license as a real estate broker before the person files an application for the license and requires the person to submit to the Division certain financial information. (NAC 645.120) Section 14 of this regulation repeals these requirements.

Existing regulations provide that a person who holds a permit to engage in property management and who engages in the management of a common-interest community is subject to the provisions of existing law relating to managers of common-interest communities. (NAC 645.799) Section 14 of this regulation repeals this provision.

Section 1. Chapter 645 of NAC is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:
