Ann, is there anyway I could make payment arrangements for my fine which is due the end of November? I no longer have my office so I have no income from that. I still have my license active as broker salesman but I am 80 years old and I'm not able to work anymore. I am a widow and my only income now is social security so coming up with this entire amount is going to create an extreme hardship for me. For many months before my husband died, we needed home care that Medicare would not cover, so that took most of our savings. Thanks for your time Ann.
