I would like to suggest that in the online classes that the students must be sitting down when attending the class. They should not be allowed to clean their house, walking their dog, feeding or holding animals, and etc. It distracts others and instructors that then get off topic to address issues.

Also I would recommend that the person needs to be in full view, not just the top of a hat or not in view at all. The instructor should not have to ask the questions 3 or more times to reach someone as it slows the whole class down and is really frustrating to the ones that do participate. The monitor should really jump in when the student does not respond and kick them out.

While I am guessing that most of this is required already, it needs to start to be reinforced.

Thank You
