Good evening

I am in complete favor of online "zoom" classes. They are quite effective and actually limit disruptions and all that I have taken in the past 3+ years have been beneficial.

Most instructors encourage class participation just as in live classroom setting.

I live at Lake Tahoe and majority of live class offerings require a 45-1 hour drive over the mountain to Reno or Carson. Winter travel for a class can take up a whole day for a 3 hour credit class, especially if there is a winter storm and they close the road to and from Reno to Incline.

I encourage the RE Division to keep the current class format offerings in place.

Thank you,

"I can help you relocate here or anywhere in the world! Please ask me how."
