Department of Business & Industry
Real Estate Division

Introduction

The Department of Business and Industry—Nevada Real Estate Division has developed this booklet to increase consumer awareness and understanding of disclosures that may be required by a buyer or seller during the sale or purchase of a residential property in the State of Nevada.

In almost every real estate transaction, some form of written disclosure is required. For example, real estate licensees must disclose if they are related to a party in the transaction or affiliated with the lender involved in approving the loan for that particular transaction. Sellers, for instance, are responsible for disclosing material facts, data and other information relating to the property they are attempting to sell. And buyers, in some cases, must disclose if they are choosing to waive their 10-day opportunity to conduct a risk assessment of lead hazards.

These are only a few examples of what must be disclosed during a real estate transaction. While it is not possible to outline which disclosures are needed in every situation, as each real estate transaction is unique, this booklet contains discussions on the most commonly required state, federal and local disclosures.

References to real estate licensees and the sale of residential properties in this booklet apply only to the state of Nevada. This guide, however, does not specifically address vacant land or commercial properties.

We hope that you will find this booklet helpful and that it becomes a valuable resource during your real estate transaction. For more information, please visit our website at <http://red.nv.gov>.

Common-Interest Communities and Condominium Hotels

⇒ Purpose of Disclosure

The purpose of the information statement required when purchasing a home or unit in a common-interest community or a condominium hotel is to make the buyer aware of all rights, obligations and other aspects related to owning a unit within a common-interest community (also known as a homeowner's association) or a condominium hotel. The statement makes buyers aware that use of their units can be restricted by the Declaration or CC&R's. It also alerts buyers that foreclosure of the unit is possible for failure to pay assessments.

⇒ Who must provide the disclosure?

The seller must, at seller's expense, provide an information statement with the sale of any unit within a common-interest community or condominium hotel. The statement is entitled "BEFORE YOU PURCHASE PROPERTY IN A [COMMON-INTEREST COMMUNITY] [CONDOMINIUM HOTEL] DID YOU KNOW..."

⇒ When is it due?

In a transaction requiring a public offering statement (further detailed below), the information statement is part of the public offering statement and is due no later than the date an offer to purchase becomes binding on the buyer. If the unit has not been inspected by the buyer, the buyer will have 5 calendar days to cancel the contract from the date of execution.

In a resale transaction, the information statement is part of the resale package. A buyer has 5 calendar days to cancel the contract after receipt of the resale package. It is good practice to provide the information statement no later than 5 days before the contract becomes binding on the buyer in any type of transaction.

⇒ Additional Information

Public Offering Statement

If the property is a new unit in a common-interest community or a condominium hotel, the buyer must be provided with a Public Offering Statement on or before the date on which an offer to purchase becomes binding, and must fully and accurately disclose information as listed out in NRS 116.4103(1)(a)-(o), unless exempt for certain small offerings (NRS 116.41035), including:

- Declarant and Community Information (projected buildings with timetables, amenities, and est. # of units)
- Governing Documents & Financials (copies of the declaration, bylaws, rules and regulations, and all required financial information*)
- Services, Expenses, and Fees (including projected common expenses, and all initial, special, current, and expected fees or charges for units and common-element use)
- Warranties and Purchaser Rights
- Legal Actions & Restrictions (unsatisfied judgments, pending actions, restraints on alienation, leasing or sale restrictions, and any arrangements binding the association under NRS 116.1209)
- Additional Required Statements (All required fee statements for the unit and the information statement under NRS 116.41095)

Common-Interest Communities and Condominium Hotels

FINANCIAL INFORMATION REQUIRED:

Further, the Public Offering Statement must include the association's current and projected budget, plus detailed reserves, projected expenses, and monthly assessments by unit type (NRS 116.4103(2)).

The Public Offering Statement must include additional disclosures if the community is subject to any developmental rights (see NRS 116.4104), or contains converted buildings (see NRS 116.4106), or contains units which may be in a time share (see NRS 116.4105), or is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (see NRS 116.4107).

*PURCHASERS RIGHTS: As required to be stated in the contract for purchase, unless the buyer has personally inspected the unit, the buyer may cancel the contract to purchase, by written notice to the seller either by hand or by prepaid U.S. mail, until midnight of the fifth calendar day following the date of execution of the contract, without penalty and prompt refund of all payments (NRS 116.4108).

Resale Package

In transactions involving the resale of a unit previously sold by the developer, a resale package must be provided to the buyer at the expense of the seller. In addition to the information statement, the resale package includes the following: the declaration, bylaws, rules and regulations, monthly assessments, unpaid assessments of any kind, current operating budget, financial statement, reserve study summary, unsatisfied judgments, and status of any pending legal actions.

Transfer Fees

Do not pertain to Condominium Hotels

The resale package for a home or unit in a common-interest community must also include a statement of any transfer fees, transaction fees or any other fees associated with the resale of a unit.

Unpaid Obligations

Do not pertain to Condominium Hotels

The resale package for a home or unit in a common-interest community must also include a statement from the association setting forth the amount of the monthly assessment for common expenses and any unpaid obligations that are due from the selling unit's owner, including management fees, transfer fees, fines, penalties, interest, collection costs, foreclosure fees and attorney's fee. Please be advised that while the resale package includes this information, changes to the law in 2013 no longer allow a seller or buyer to rely on this statement as accurate. The seller must obtain a "statement of demand" which is separate from the resale package.

Delivery of Resale Package

An association or hotel unit owner has 10 days to provide the resale package after a request. If the documents are not provided within 10 days the buyer is not liable for any delinquent assessment. The resale package should be delivered as soon as practicable. Unless the buyer has accepted conveyance of the unit, the buyer may cancel the contract to purchase, by written notice, until midnight of the fifth calendar day following receipt of the resale package. This provision must be stated in the contract.

Common-Interest Communities and Condominium Hotels

Statement of Demand

Does not pertain to Condominium Hotels

The statement of fees and assessments in the resale package may not be relied upon. It is necessary for any seller to purchase a statement of demand from the association and provide it to the buyer. The statement of demand may be requested by the unit owner, his or her representative or the holder of a security interest on the unit. A statement of demand from the association sets forth the current outstanding assessments, fees and unpaid obligations, including foreclosure fees and attorney's fees due from the seller. The statement of demand remains effective for the period specified in the demand, which must not be less than 15 business days from the date of delivery by the association to the seller. The association may provide a corrected statement of demand prior to the sale. Payment of the amount set forth in the statement of demand constitutes full payment of the amount due from the seller.

Open Range Disclosure

⇒ Purpose of Disclosure

The purpose of the Open Range Disclosure is to inform the prospective buyer of a home or an improved or unimproved lot adjacent to open range that livestock are permitted to graze or roam on the property. Open range means all unenclosed land outside of cities and towns upon which cattle, sheep or other domestic animals by custom, license, lease or permit are grazed or permitted to roam. It also serves to inform the prospective buyer that the parcel may be subject to county or State claims of right-of-way, (commonly referred to as R.S. 2477 rights-of-way) including rights-of-way that may be unrecorded, undocumented or unsurveyed; and used by miners, ranchers, hunters or others, for access or recreational use, in a manner which interferes with the use and enjoyment of the parcel.

⇒ Who must provide the disclosure?

A seller must disclose, in writing, to a potential buyer of property adjacent to open range, that livestock grazing on the open range are permitted to enter the property; and that the parcel may be subject to county or State claims of right-of-way.

⇒ When is it due?

The disclosure must be provided to the potential buyer, with the requirement that the buyer sign the disclosure form acknowledging the date of receipt of the original disclosure document, before the sales agreement is signed.

Open Range Disclosure

⇒ Additional Information

The disclosure acknowledges fencing the property to keep livestock out and recognizes the property owner's entitlement to damages if livestock enter a fenced property but warns against harming roaming livestock even on a fenced property.

The law requires that the seller retain a copy of the disclosure document that has been signed by the buyer acknowledging the date of receipt of the document, provide a copy to the buyer, and record the original disclosure document containing the buyer's signature and the seller's notarized signature in the office of the county recorder in the county where the property is located.

Seller's Real Property Disclosure

⇒ Purpose of Disclosure

The purpose of the Seller's Real Property Disclosure form is to make the buyer aware of the overall condition of the property before it is transferred. This disclosure is not a guarantee nor does it take the place of an inspection. In some cases, a Seller has never lived on the property and may have no knowledge of the condition of the property. The Buyer is advised to obtain an independent inspection performed by a properly licensed home inspector. This form is not required for new home sales.

⇒ Who must provide the disclosure?

The seller must complete the "Seller's Real Property Disclosure" form, detailing the condition of the property, known defects, and any other aspects of the property which may affect its use or value. A real estate licensee, unless he is the seller of the property, may not complete this form.

The form must be fully completed. If the seller has no knowledge, "no" is an appropriate answer to the "Are you aware ..." questions. Each question must be answered by marking "yes," "no," or, where applicable, "n/a." All "yes" responses must include an explanation, and the seller must sign the form. The buyer may sign the form only after it has been fully completed by the seller.

A Buyer may rescind the contract without penalty if he does not receive a properly completed Seller's Real Property Disclosure form. If a Buyer closes a transaction without a completed form or if a known defect is not disclosed, the Buyer may be entitled to treble damages, unless the Buyer waives his rights under NRS 113.150(6).

⇒ When is it due?

A seller of residential property shall complete a disclosure form regarding the condition of the property and provide it to the buyer at least 10 days prior to the close of escrow.

Seller's Real Property Disclosure

⇒ Additional Information

The content of the disclosure is based on what the seller is aware of at the time. If, after completion of the disclosure form, the seller discovers a new defect or notices that a previously disclosed condition has worsened, the seller must inform the purchaser, in writing, as soon as practicable after discovery of the condition, or before conveyance of the property.

The buyer may not waive, and the seller may not require a buyer to waive, any of the requirements of the disclosure as a condition of sale or for any other purpose.

In a sale or intended sale by foreclosure, the trustee and the beneficiary of the deed of trust shall provide, not later than the conveyance of the property to, or upon request from, the buyer:

- written notice of any defects of which the trustee or beneficiary is aware; and
- the contact information of any asset management company who provided asset management services, if any defects are repaired or replaced or attempted to be repaired or replaced. The asset management company shall provide a service report to the purchaser upon request.

If a Seller requests a Buyer to waive his rights or legal remedies under NRS 113.150 or otherwise, the Buyer should contact an attorney for advice regarding the legal consequences. A real estate licensee cannot explain the legal consequences of waiving a Buyer's legal rights or remedies.

Restrictive Covenant Modification

⇒ Purpose of Disclosure

The purpose of the restrictive covenant modification disclosure is to remove discriminatory restrictions or prohibitions from a written instrument relating to real property.

Pursuant to NRS 111.237, any provision in a written instrument relating to real property which attempts to restrict the sale, transfer, encumbrance, leasing or mortgaging of such real property to any person of a specified race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, disability, familial status, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity or expression is void and unenforceable.

Any restriction or prohibition on the use or occupancy of real property based on race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin, disability, familial status, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity or expression is also void and unenforceable.

⇒ Who must provide the disclosure?

Any interested person who wishes to remove a discriminatory restriction or prohibition from a written instrument relating to real property may initiate this process.

The interested person must file a petition with the district court requesting that the court issue an order directing the county recorder to record a restrictive covenant modification document. If, after considering the petition and any objections, the district court determines that a restriction or prohibition identified in the petition is void and unenforceable by operation of law, the court will issue such an order.

⇒ When is it due?

If the district court issues an order, the interested person may record a restrictive covenant modification document by filing with the appropriate county recorder:

- (1) a restrictive covenant modification form;
- (2) a certified copy of the written instrument; and
- (3) a certified copy of the court order issued.

Upon receipt of these documents, the county recorder will redact the unlawful language, record the modification document, and retain the original instrument as part of the public record.

⇒ Additional Information

The filing of a petition and the recording of a restrictive covenant modification document are not subject to court filing or recording fees. The decision of the district court is final and not appealable.

The filing of a petition does not constitute grounds for delaying any probate, divorce, or bankruptcy proceeding involving an owner of the property.

⇒ Who must provide the disclosure?

The information is provided by the Nevada Real Estate Division (NRED) in agreement with the Southern Nevada Health District (SNHD) to promote SNHD's efforts to inform the public on drowning prevention.
